Amount of variance explained by each component selected through a spatial PCA over the depth-reduced data